

Studies In Intelligence Awards for 1979

1500, Tuesday, 6 May 1980

-Pleasure present

*Sherman Kent Award

*4 Studies in Intelligence awards for best contributions to the literature of intelligence last year

-These awards established in 1960 to provide incentive to intel officers to contribute to literature of intel year

-Intelligence is a profession. Consequently, just as with medical or legal professions, extremely important that we

*exchange ideas publish

*stimulate dialogue

*contribute to corporate memory Because only that way will we *push forward frontiers of our knowledge of our profession

*broaden scope of our & other's thinking *ultimately improve intelligence -Studies in Intelligence, and now also, Contra are extremely important fora for those ideas

I congratulate both publications on what doing

-Congratulate also this year's winners

-Want them & you to know that while they will be sharing generous cash awards for their efforts this year as in past,

Because this is Studies in Intelligence's 25th anniversary year, the award total is being increased for next year's awards fm $1000 to $1500

So now you have even greater incentive to write Let's read the citations
